No. 2: Flat rate = price stacking This is how I define price stacking: Your price book says a toilet rebuild is $175. You get to a home that needs three toilets rebuilt, so you calculate the charge as $175 x 3, even though that task is calculated for an hour and it only took you an hour and a half to do all three.

Flat rate pricing is a fixed price that includes the labor, material costs, overhead (including taxes) and profit to perform a service. To do the same service using T&M pricing, time is charged at the company's labor rate and its price (and mark-up) for the materials used. These expenses are calculated and any taxes added for a total.
